

What is

Cottolene?

Cottolene is a pale yellow material of the consistency and texture of butter. It is made from the purest cottonseed oil and is the most perfect substitute for butter in all its uses. It is without odor and has a neutral flavor to the taste.

Cottolene is a simple preparation of cottonseed oil and lard. It contains no water and no coloring matter. It meets the highest standard for a pure, healthful, and desirable substitute for butter.

The name Cottolene is registered in the Patent Office and is fully protected. All persons are warned against imitations, and the name Cottolene is the only name to be used in the purchase of this product.

HOW TO USE COTTOLENE.

Directions are clear and simple. Use exactly the same as butter. For example, one-half cup of Cottolene will make one-half cup of cake. It is the only product that will keep in the refrigerator for a long time.

Special to the Gazette.

New York, Nov. 11.—Money closed easy at 1 per cent, the lowest rate, the highest rate was 6.

Exchange—Steady, and posted rates $1 81 1/2 for gold.

Silver—Steady, and posted rates $1 81 1/2 for gold.

Sugar—Raw and refined dull but steady at unchanged prices.

Wheat—Options moderately active but firm, closing 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 higher. Spot lots steady.

Wool—Dull but steady at previous prices. Spring Texas, 17 1/2 to 18.

Cotton—Spot lots quiet. Middlings, upland, 15 1/2 to 16. Futures closed steady.

Coffee—Spot lots dull. Fair Rio cargoes, 13 1/2 to 14. Futures closed strong and higher.

Hides—Steady. Buenos Ayres dry, 13 1/2 to 14. Dry Texas, 10 1/2 to 11.

Stocks—Moderately active this morning, prices irregular and unsettled. The opening was weak on London selling, most of the stocks fractionally lower. The principal dealings were in Atchafalpa, St. Paul, Chicago gas, Union Pacific and Northern Pacific. At noon prices were still irregular, some of the list being higher and others lower than last night.

The market was a dragging and featureless one in the last half of the day, although the situation in Paris and Berlin had improved. The Brazilian troubles had the effect of an unsettled feeling abroad, and this was reflected in this market. Prices closed irregular, in most cases only slightly advanced. Sales, 100,000 shares.

Atchafalpa, 41 1/2 to 42.

Little or no change in the dry goods situation today. The daily "Commercial Bulletin" in its review of the dry goods trade says: "Business in domestic goods has been a considerable time during the last week, some large transactions for immediate shipment by cheap freight routes have been secured, and the business in printed specialties and woven fabrics for spring delivery was of fair extent and good, but was retarded in the wool and worsted goods. The tone of the market generally is steady, and stocks, although irregularly held, are mostly in good shape. Collections are regular and country prospects favorable."
